

The Wallpaper History Society Copyright Notice

July 2021

The contents of this document are based on the assessment of The Wallpaper History Society at the time in which the document was created (July 2021). The contents should not be considered legal advice. If such legal advice is required, the opinion of a suitably qualified legal professional should be sought.

Copyright notice

The Wallpaper History Society is committed to respecting copyright and other intellectual property rights. We make every effort to respect the copyright of the contributors, museums, galleries and other public collections (each a 'collection') who provide us with images of the wallpapers featured on our website. We also make every effort to respect any copyright in the wallpapers and accompanying information.

Content featured on the Wallpaper History Society website, including images, data, stories, learning resources and other materials, may be reproduced for non-commercial research and private study purposes, as well as other uses permitted under the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988, as amended and revised.

For all other uses, those seeking to reproduce content featured on this website, need to actively obtain further consent from the contributor, and other rights holders as required.

Our approach to copyright

We have made all reasonable efforts to ensure that content on our website is reproduced with consent of its copyright holders and the respective collections. However, there are some copyright holders who so far have proved to be untraceable. Any information or queries should be addressed to info@wallpaperhistorysociety.org.uk

Takedown policy

We undertake to remove images and other content if requested to do so by copyright holders.

If you hold rights in any content on our website and do not agree with its reproduction, you can request its removal by writing to info@wallpaperhistorysociety.org.uk and stating the following information in your message:

- Your name, email address and phone number
- The website address where you found the work
- The nature of the complaint
- A statement that you are the copyright holder or are authorised to act on behalf of the rights holder. You may be asked to provide proof of this ownership that would stand up in a court of law

We will endeavour to respond to your initial message within fourteen working days and will aim to process any approved takedown requests within a further two working days.

General statement

While we make every effort to ensure the accuracy of the information and copyright of material on this website, any and all liability which might arise from your use of and reliance on the content displayed on our website is excluded.
